

Old Testament Review

Baby Found In Basket

Joey Anderson, Jr. Staff Reporter

Once upon a time, a baby boy was born. But the King was going to take him and eat him, (kill him). So, the baby's mommy saved him. She put him in a basket and put him in the water and hid him. The King's daughter found him. She wanted to save him and take care of him. She named him Moses. The King let her keep him, and Moses was safe.

Burning Bush Tells All

Mystery Reporter

The strangest thing happened to me yesterday. A man was walking up the hill toward me. Suddenly my branches were alight with fire, but I was not hot. God spoke through me to Moses. He told Moses to go back to Egypt and tell the Pharaoh to let his people leave.

Moses questioned how he could convince the Pharaoh to let the people go. God said, "Throw down the rod you are holding." Moses threw it down. It turned into a snake. God said, "I will use signs like this to show the King that I am with you."

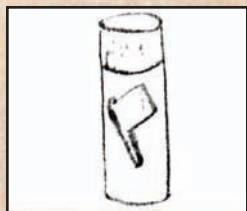

Ppppick Ssomeone Elsse

Mystery Reporter

Moses told God he would not be a good choice to go convince the Pharaoh because he had a speech problem. God chose Moses because he was obedient. He sent Aaron, Moses' brother, along to speak for Moses.

For those plagued with plagues ...

Blue Flag kills gnats by the thousands.

Call: 1-800-PLAGUE-AWAY

Adrienne/Natasha

Moses Predicts Plagues

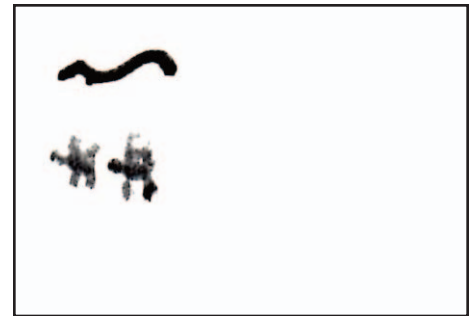

Joey Anderson, Jr. Staff Reporter

One day when Moses was big, he told the mad King, he said, "Let God's people go." And the king said "No!"

God turned the water to blood. But the King wouldn't let the people go because he wanted to keep them.

God let the frogs get in people's beds and their ovens too. But the King still wouldn't let the people go.

God sent flies, made the animals sick and the people got boo-books all over them.

Then God sent snow (hail) and bees (locusts) and the King still wouldn't let the people go because they did his job.

It got dark and God said, "The oldest boy in the family would die."

And that happened, and the king let the people go.

Nile River Turns to Blood

Natasha Dunbar, Staff Reporter

I went down to get water for my family. To my amazement, the river turned to blood.

God's People Leave Egypt

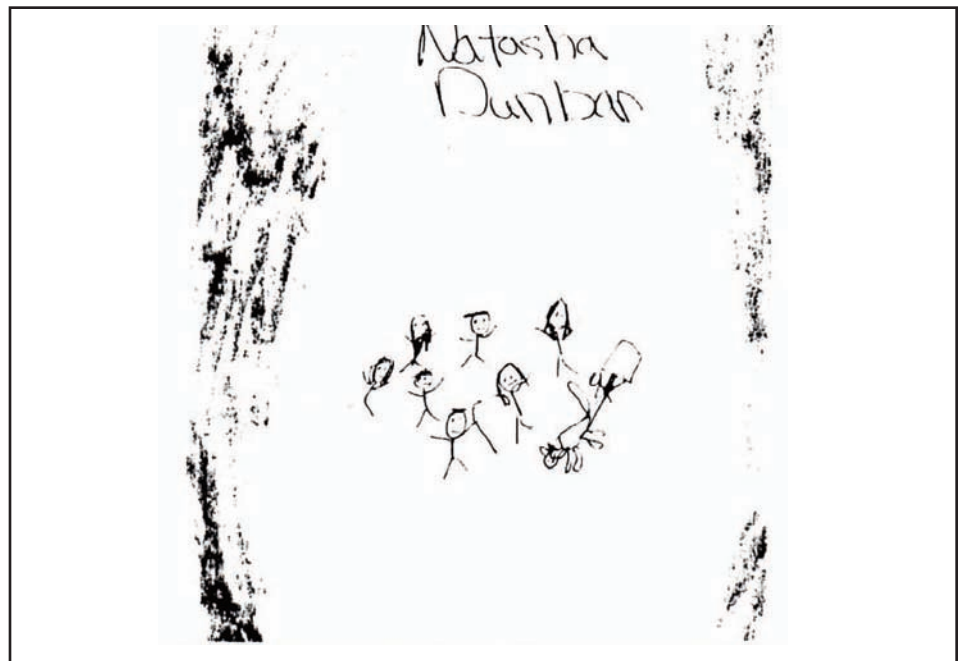

Adrienne Townsend,
Staff Reporter

Six hundred thousand men went with Moses. They took their wives and children. So, about three million people went with Moses.

If everyone got in a line they would reach from Egypt to the Promised Land and back. That's a lot of people!

Red Sea Parts

Natasha Dunbar, Staff Reporter

An exclusive interview with the fish in the Red Sea:

Q: What was his name?

A: I think his name was Moses.

Q: Did anything happen today?

Q: What did he do?

A: Yes, I was swimming in the Red Sea, then a man came to the shore.

A: He raised his arms and the water parted and then it went whole again.

Plagues Getting You Down?

- Try Bottled Water - The Nile River Alternative
- Boo Boo Cream
- Venus Fly Trap Seeds
- Frog Busters

Call: 1-800-PLAGUE-AWAY

Adrienne/Natasha

The Long Way Home

Mystery Reporter

Twelve spies went to check out the Promised Land. Joshua and Caleb told the people that it was a great place and that God would help them be victorious there. The other ten spies brought a report of walled cities and giants. The people believed the bad reports instead of trusting God.

The trip from Egypt to the Promised Land should have taken the large group of Israelites two to three months. Their lack of faith in God caused the trip to take forty years.

God Gives People Ten Commandments

Mystery Reporter

After Moses led the people out of Egypt, God gave them the Ten Commandments. They were an agreement between God and his people.

When a strong king made an agreement with a weaker nation, he wrote out two copies of the covenant, one for himself and one for the people. God gave Moses both copies to show Israel

he was right there with him.

When Moses came down the mountain and saw the people worshipping a golden calf, he was very angry. He threw the copies down. Later God wrote two more copies so there were really four copies of the Ten Commandments.

The Ten Commandments

1. Have no other gods.
2. Have no idols.
3. Honor God's name.
4. Honor the Sabbath day.
5. Honor your parents.
6. Do not murder.
7. Do not commit adultery.
8. Do not steal.
9. Do not lie.
10. Do not want what others have.

—Exodus 20:1-17

Today's Menu

Manna

Made fresh every day from Heaven's best ingredients. They have a flaky pastry texture and honey-sweetened taste that you'll love for 40 years.

Quail

New! Special request. Spit roasted to perfection over red hot coals. Golden brown inside and crispy outside. Tender and juicy. All you can eat.

- Adrienne